Inzipio offers groundbreaking AI-powered medical software for automated surgery planning. Its visionary technology fulfils the desire of surgeons worldwide to plan complex operations quickly and autonomously, while always remaining in control. By focusing on maxillofacial surgery as a starting point, Inzipio aims to become a major player in this field, helping surgeons to optimally plan their procedures. In the future, Inzipio plans to expand into other medical domains to help a wider range of surgeons use this innovative planning software and provide them with an efficient and self-directed work environment.
